Why Advertise in Inside County Lines?

Inside County Lines is the only magazine for and about Mississippi's county government leaders and is proud to educate, inform and spread county news statewide.

Inside County Lines currently has over 1,000 subscribers, with more subscribers joining each quarter.

Inside County Lines is the premier publication of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors (MAS), a statewide, nonprofit, nonpartisan Association representing all 82 counties and 410 County Supervisors.

Inside County Lines serves as a mouthpiece for county and local government issues and provides education and information about counties to its readers.

When is Inside County Lines published?

Inside County Lines is published quarterly, following each of MAS' major conferences and the close of the legislative session. Please see the advertising contract for submission deadlines and publication dates.

We're Digital!

Inside County Lines is digital! Members receive a complimentary digital subscription. To purchase a physical magazine, please visit our website to download the subscription order form.
