

MAS' 2022 Mid-Winter Legislative Conference

Here at the MAS office we have received several emails and calls asking if the Mid-Winter Legislative Conference next week is still going to be held. The answer is yes. We do plan on proceeding with our Conference scheduled for next Tuesday, January 11 - Thursday, January 13. We acknowledge that we are living under unprecedented times, and we will be taking safety precautions to protect all our attendees. We are strongly recommending to all our attendees to do so as well. If you are experiencing any symptoms, or do not feel 100% healthy, we strongly urge you to please stay home to protect yourself and others. We will refund your registration at no cost if you cannot attend due to health concerns. We are recording all our educational sessions, if you wish to register to watch at a later date.
